Short Profile

Karel J. Golta

Business Romantic, Humane Innovation Advocate, Designer and Entrepreneur

A humane innovation advocate, Karel is on a mission to reverse human impact on the planet by using the power of design to build a more livable future for all life on earth.

With the undeniable effects of climate change and major planetary boundaries at tipping points, Karel demands for businesses and innovation to turn their focus from a human-centric model to a planet-centric one in order to preserve not only humanity, but our entire global ecosystem.

A strong believer in boldness and courage, he never does things halfway. The declared business romantic thrives when he is contributing and sharing visionary ideas with others – whether as entrepreneur, keynote speaker, lecturer or author.

As founder of multiple companies and CEO of INDEED Innovation Karel loves to discuss big ideas, poke at rigid thinking, and ultimately unearth previously unrealized possibilities.

His topic at heart is that of the Innovation Rebel, where he speaks about the circular economy, behavioral change, Artificial Intelligence and how we all can rebel our legacy to recode innovation - to preserve and repair the global ecosystem.
